"Enhancing The Era Of Excellence"

Johnson C. Smith University

"Home of the Golden Bulls"

Charlotte, N. C.

This yearbook is dedicated to a man with a vision. A man who has sincere desires and hopes to have students realize that "knowledge begins and ends with God." He is a 1986 graduate of Smith and from the Johnson C. Smith Seminary in 1989. He has truly made a mark his premier year as a staff member at Smith. He established a great rapport with the students and the staff; a man after God's own heart. We dedicate this to you Rev. Ralph Lowe. Thanks a billion.

LOVE,

Everett and Sonya

JOHNSON C. SMITH
UNIVERSITY

January, 1990

TO THE CLASS OF 1990:

As you complete your baccalaureate studies this May and look forward to the next stage of the great adventure that is life, you inherit a world that is vastly different than when you entered the university some years ago. In point of fact, your generation is experiencing history; changes on a global basis that will have ramifications for you that are so vast and far-reaching that we cannot even begin to imagine their true impact.

Consider, if you will, the beginning of the end of apartheid in South Africa; the movement for democratic reforms in China, the Eastern-bloc countries and South America; the meteoric rise of Japan in the world marketplace; and the technological changes brought about by the widespread use of the computer, FAX machines, and other devices which make communication possible to any part of the globe in less than a minute. Taken collectively, these changes will require you to rethink your universe and your position in it. For clearly, even though you are better trained and more prepared than any previous generations before you, the rapid changes in our society and our world will require, even demand, more of you in the future.

I hope and pray that your years with us here at Johnson C. Smith University were only the beginning of your educational growth and development. I hope that each of you will recognize the urgency of further study; the necessity to become citizens of the world community; and the harsh reality that our world is being rapidly transformed into those who have and those who have not!

I believe that each of you has something unique and valuable to contribute to this world and your respective communities. Hence, I can only hope that during our years together, we have armed you well to succeed in life - and that the university has met the goals of sharpening your intellect, broadening your horizons and heightening your consciousness.

With continued best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Robert L. Albright

COLLEGE DAY

College Day is an Annual event held each year.
The purpose of college day is to educate our young brothers and sisters on how important it is to get an education.
Here at Johnson C. Smith University, we encourage our students and other students to do their best.

The UNCF's slogan was addressed as one of the topics "A mind is a terrible thing to waste."
Attending the College Day festivities were high school students, and students from surrounding colleges and universities.

Some of the activities for the day were a tour of the campus, its facilities and classrooms.
Musical selections were presented by a neighboring university choir.
Our own Jimmie Smith, gave a speech along with other students from Smith and abroad.

Today so many black youths neglect a good education due to societies barriers. But we must illustrate to them that, "without a good education you will not be able to excell in life." We as college students must set an example to let the youth know that they can beat the odds and succeed.

Spectators watch as one of the students sings her heart out to them.

The choir makes a joyful noise unto the Lord.

Dr. Albright, greets the students at the opening of the program

Jimmie Smith, senior, delivers an eye awakening speech on education.

The speeches were given by students from Smith and other black colleges.

A Shaw University student speaks his mind on the education of black youths.

Alpha Kappa Alpha is the oldest Greek letter organization established in America by Black college women. It is rather a significant and inspiring reflection of a minority group in a changing culture. Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority Incorporated was founded in 1908 at Howard University located in Washington, D.C. In its earliest years, Alpha Kappa Alpha became a symbol of the aspiration of able young women to develop their full potentials in an atmosphere of friendship and mutually supportive stimulation to excellence.

DELTA SIGMA THETA SORORITY INC.

GAMMA LAMDA

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority was founded January 13, 1913 by 22 women on the campus of Howard University in Washington, D.C. The very first chapter was named Alpha Chapter. The objective of the sorority is to establish and maintain a high standard of morality and scholarship among women.

On February 19, 1944 Gamma Lamda Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta was organized with eleven charter members. Today Gamma Lamda tries to uphold the ideals of their initial founders.

ALPHA PHI ALPHA FRATERNITY, INC. ALPHA OMICRON

From inception, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., paid homage to our African heritage—symbolized by the Sphinx.

Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., the first inter-collegiate Greek-letter fraternity established for Black college men, was founded on December 4, 1906 at Cornell University. Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., was the only Black Fraternity born on an Ivy League University. The Seven visionary founders at Cornell, labored in years of severe economic struggle and racial conflict in the United States. Despite these odds the fraternity succeeded, setting the highest standards that all men should follow, Scholarship, Leadership, Manly Deeds and Love for all mankind (peace).

Alpha Omicron is the oldest chapter in North Carolina, being founded on May 4, 1923. The Men Of Alpha Omicron truly uphold the aims and ideas of Alpha. These gentlemen are actively involved in Student Government, Resident Life and various organizations on, as well as off campus. These Distinctive men represent leadership, scholastic achievement and a love for all mankind. Their tenacious qualities stand above all others.

OMEGA PSI PHI FRATERNITY INC.

RHO CHAPTER

Omega Psi Phi was started on November 17, 1911 on the campus of Howard University. There were three Howard University students aided by a faculty advisor. These men gave birth to Omega Psi Phi Fraternity. This event took place in the office of Ernest E. Just, the faculty advisor. The three students were Edgar A. Love, Oscar J. Cooper and Frank Coleman. Manhood, Scholarship, Perseverance and uplift were selected as cardinal principles.

On December 5, 1921 the Rho chapter of Omega Psi Phi was established on Johnson C. Smith's campus by Dr. George and Dr. Wyche.

SNAPSHOTS OF EXCELLENCE

THE ERA OF EXCELLENCE CONTINUES

JOHNSON C. SMITH UNIVERSITY

What is Johnson C. Smith University and how do we have the arrogance to proclaim an "Era of Excellence?" Quite simply, Johnson C. Smith University is one of the nation's oldest and most progressive historically black colleges. Founded in 1867, the University has an unparalleled record of achievement. It has produced many of this nation's most outstanding black leaders.

Johnson C. Smith University has embarked on an "Era of Excellence." In the past few years, our enrollment has increased dramatically; our campus facilities have expanded and are undergoing impressive renovations; we have added to our curricular offerings four new programs which are designed to help prepare our students, the future leaders of America, to assume the reins of leadership in the areas most critical to our society; and we have enhanced the quality of an already fine liberal arts faculty.

Moreover, the University recognizes that it is, perhaps, the single most important institution in Charlotte for black Americans. Accordingly, we have instituted new programs and new relationships which are designed to strengthen both the community and the University.

Finally, we recognize the necessity for developing new partnerships with the corporate entities in our community and our state. Our new partnerships led to a successful campaign for excellence in which the University, in just three months, raised pledges and gifts totaling over $6,000,000. With these new resources, we shall strengthen our programs, hire distinguished faculty, recruit outstanding students and prepare ourselves to enter the 21st century with pride and strength.

Our era has indeed begun. Therefore, it is with pleasure that we invite you to learn more about us. We urge you to consider Johnson C. Smith University as your choice for the institution of higher learning that will prepare you for the great adventure of life. At Johnson C. Smith University, we help to build the framework so you can build the future.

As a small, select liberal arts institution, Johnson C. Smith University provides an outstanding environment for achieving your personal academic goals while also developing your general knowledge and understanding of other fields.

Johnson C. Smith makes teaching its highest priority, and while the role of research is increasing on our campus, the emphasis on providing the best possible instructional environment for students remains constant. A highly skilled and talented faculty, including graduates from many of our nation's finest institutions, is here for you to provide the personal attention and guidance to make your campus experience an invaluable one.

Robert L. Albright
President

FACULTY AND CURRICULUM

A student faculty ratio of 17 to 1 assures faculty members the time to focus on the needs of individual students. Over 50% of our faculty have earned doctorates, reflecting their personal commitment to higher education as well as their strength and ability in their fields.

PROGRAMS OF STUDY

Twenty-six programs of study give you a wide variety of educational opportunities at Johnson C. Smith. Within the four major divisions — the Humanities, the Social Sciences, Education, Physical Education, Health, and Psychology; and Mathematics and Sciences — a number of specialized programs may be followed, including pre-med, pre-dental and pre-law.

These programs are just a few ways in which we are preparing students to assume genuine positions of leadership in the complex and demanding world of the 21st century.

An ongoing process of evaluation ensures that all programs at Johnson C. Smith are up-to-date and directly applicable to current needs. Faculty, too, are required to keep abreast of changes in their fields, through professional seminars, workshops and continued education.

In response to the rapidly changing demands of our society, new concentrations have emerged as well. Economics and Business Administration, for example, along with Computer Science, Communications Arts, and Banking and Finance Education have been growing dramatically in popularity.

ENTER TO LEARN DEPART TO SERVE

This spring, Johnson C. Smith University will open the doors to what will be the first Honors College facility ever constructed on an Historically Black College Campus. This new, state-of-the-art facility will house 16 Honors College students in studying to the advanced curriculum under the guidance of Honors College Rector, Dr. Robert Bulck.

At JCSU, we are planning, building and growing to meet the demands of the 1990's and beyond.

For 122 Years, Smith Graduates Have Entered The Job Market With The Confidence Needed To Succeed. Come Grow With Us, A Family On The Move In One Of The South's Most Dynamic Cities.

The Band At Its Best

Way To Go J.C. Smith!

Hats off to the Johnson C. Smith University Marching Band, which brought back all kinds of hardware from the St. Patrick's Day Parade in Ireland. The band, under the direction of Duncan Gray, put nearly a year of effort into making the trip the success it was. The group, which proudly calls itself "The Institution of Sound" worked its way to engagements around the area in order to let the public know the band was serious about going across the Atlantic.

JCSU Band Wows Dublin

Marching Golden Bulls Take Top Honors In Competition

By TEX O'NEILL
Staff Writer

Surely it was a grand day for the Irish, but it was even grander for Charlotte's Marching Golden Bulls.

Johnson C. Smith University's marching band took top honors in the international competition in the St. Patrick's Day parade in Dublin, Ireland, Saturday, beating out 37 other bands.

"You wouldn't believe it," said a breathless Duncan Gray, band director. "We are the No. 1 band on the international level."

For a time, it didn't look like the band would get to compete. Members raised most of the $75,000 needed for the trip, but the university loaned them the final $10,000 to $15,000.

Apparently, people really know how to throw a parade in Dublin. Gray said the weather was beautiful, and Dubliners lined O'Connell Street 10 deep. News accounts reported 300,000 in attendance.

Simply put, the Marching Golden Bulls wowed the crowd.

"We were so well-received we actually received police protection to deal with media and crowd control," Gray said.

Before the Lord Mayor of Dublin, U.S. ambassador, prime minister and other dignitaries and judges, the band performed Earth, Wind and Fire's "In the Stone."

"We have been treated like true ambassadors of music," Gray said.

Times have been heady — and hectic — since the Bulls left Charlotte on Wednesday. They have seen St. Patrick's Cathedral, Trinity College and the Book of Kells. And they presented the key to the city of Charlotte to the Lord Mayor of Dublin.

Today, the band travels to Limerick, where it will march in another competition, this time against 36 other bands.

Then it's back to Charlotte, where the band expects to arrive Tuesday night, holding high the crystal trophy won Saturday.

But band members would like to go back. The Lord Mayor and the Irish Tourist Board both have extended invitations.

J.C. Smith Track Teams Running With Purpose

By HERB WHITE
Post Managing Editor

Johnson C. Smith's track coach Reggie Bodrick remembers the days just after he took over the Bulls program. The men's and women's teams were in disarray and the futures wasn't so bright. Now things have improved to the point that Bodrick is expecting good things, like CIAA championships.

"These teams are like a rebirth of the teams of the past, like in the 60s and early 70s" that produced the likes of two-time Olympic gold medalist Vince Matthews, Bodrick said. "All the athletes have take a personal responsibility to bring this program to where it once was."

The Bulls, who are preparing for the April 7 S.C. State Relays in Orangeburg, S.C., have fared better this season due to a combination of improved competition and hungry young athletes.

"I can grade our success in terms of our youth--we have all freshmen and sophomores except two seniors," Bodrick said. "A lot of our success is attributed to the quality schedule. We have something to prove to ourselves. We feel that we are back. Right now, we're feeling pretty good about where we are."

Where the Bulls find themselves is dividing the legs of its speediest men and women to respectable finishes in some of the southeast's toughest meets. Smith has done its share of traveling this spring, participating in meets in Florida to Georgia, and Bodrick said he's been impressed with the efforts of his sprinters.

Reggie Bodrick, a former runner at Johnson C. Smith, has a good feeling about this year's track teams. "These teams are like a rebirth of the teams of the past, like in the '60s and '70s."

Desi Singletary, Duane Johnson and David Buggs have been mainstays in the men's sprints, especially in the 100- and 200 meters. Buggs, an Oxon Hill, Md. freshman who finished third in The Athletics Congress (TAC) national finals as a high school senior, was the Bulls' top recruit this year.

Singletary, the 200- and 400 meter specialist, is the most experienced runners, and has shown steady improvement this season. Johnson, who runs the 100 and 200 was one of the top sprinters in S.C. last year at Orangeburg Wilkerson High.

The six-athlete women's team is anchored by Mary Martin and Tanya Willis, two of the best runners in the CIAA. Martin is the top sprinter, running in the 100-, 200-, and 400 meters. After a leveling off last season, Bodrick said her performance has seen a major turnaround.

"She's having a rebirth for running. She's going out each meet and she's improving," Bodrick said.

Willis, an all-conference performer, is the main cog in the women's wheel, and Smith's focal point for the CIAA title chase April 19-20 in Hampton.

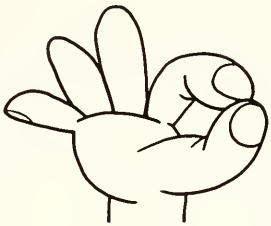
"In terms of the women, I think we should be able to claim at least third," Bodrick said.

The men are capable of taking it all, Bodrick believes because in addition to speed, Smith now has some power in the field events, which were neglected in past years.

"I believe the men have a real good chance to win. We have a javeline thrower, a high jumper and a long jumper now," he said. "We're now able to fulfill just about all the events now and score points."

Note: The JCSU Relays scheduled for April 14 will have a corporate sponsor for the first time. Pepsi will help underwrite the meet, scheduled for West Charlotte High. Having a sponsor is another step in helping Smith's track program attract top competition to the event. Twelve schools are scheduled to compete.

J.C. Smith track coach Reggie Bodrick instructs his charges at a practice at West Charlotte High. The Bulls will run in a meet in Orangeburg, S.C. April 7 and in Charlotte April 14.



Great job

Gee, what's that?

Sonya: I would like to take this opportunity to say that I have truly had a wonderful learning experience as one of the editors of this year's yearbook. A million thanks goes to my father for being a tremendous help and my mother for her unyielding support. Thanks also goes to you Everett for your patience.

Everett: Well Sonya, first I'll say "thanks be to God who always causes us to triumph." Next, thanks goes to Dr. Madrey and Mr. Rogers for having confidence in us to complete the yearbook while the student body should also be applauded for making this a year to remember. Finally I would like to recognize Adrian Harper for her great photography work.

Sonya, I think we both learned a lot in this short span, but like I always say, 'You don't just go through a situation, you grow through it." — Thanks for enduring the race."

Sonya & Everett: Concluding, together we would like to thank every member of the yearbook staff who contributed their valuable time and effort.

MEMO

May 11, 1990

TO : JCSU Students, Faculty, Staff

FROM: L.D. Rogers, Yearbook Advisor

SUBJ: 1990 printing delay

DATE: May 11, 1990

This memo is in part an apology, and an explanation for the lateness in delivery of the 1990 JCSU yearbook. First, the 1989-1990 yearbook staff, including myself, were mostly new and had to get acquainted with the many facets of producing the yearbook.

Secondly, the former editor resigned in mid-semester of 1989 leaving many deadlines unmet. In producing a yearbook, a series of missed deadlines often results in pushing the delivery date back by weeks, sometimes months.

After reorganizing the yearbook staff, often working well beyond normal school hours, and in this case, working beyond our regular school year, we were able to complete the 1989 1990 edition of the JCSU yearbook.

I would like to thank Dr. Francine Madrey, Dr. Roy Smith and the Staff of the Student Affairs Office for the assistance give to the yearbook. Also, I want to acknowledge the long hours devoted to getting this edition out, to students Sonya Jenkins and Everett Hamilton, co-editors of the 1989-1990 JCSU yearbook.

Finally, we appreciate your patience and understanding and, we do anticipate having the 1990-1991 JCSU edition out ON TIME.

Sincerely,

Charles D. Rogers
Yearbook advisor
